

FIRST READING: Isaiah 50:4-7

The Lord has given me a disciple's tongue. So that I may know how to reply to the wearied he provides me with speech. Each morning he wakes me to hear, to listen like a disciple. The Lord has opened my ear. For my part, I made no resistance, neither did I turn away. I offered my back to those who struck me, my cheeks to those who tore at my beard; I did not cover my face against insult and spittle. The Lord comes to my help, so that I am untouched by the insults. So, too, I set my face like flint; I know I shall not be shamed.

The word of the Lord.

All: Thanks be to God.

RESPONSORIAL PSALM: Ps 21:8-9, 17-20, 23-24

R. My God, my God, why have you abandoned me?

All who see me deride me.

They curl their lips, they toss their heads.

'He trusted in the Lord, let him save him;
let him release him if this is his friend.' R.

Many dogs have surrounded me,

a band of the wicked beset me.

They tear holes in my hands and my feet.

I can count every one of my bones. R.

They divide my clothing among them.

They cast lots for my robe.

O Lord, do not leave me alone,
my strength, make haste to help me! R.

I will tell of your name to my brethren and praise you where they are assembled.

'You who fear the Lord give him praise;

all sons of Jacob, give him glory.

Revere him, Israel's sons.' R.

SECOND READING: Philippians 2:6-11

His state was divine, yet Christ Jesus did not cling to his equality with God but emptied himself to assume the condition of a slave, and became as men are, and being as all men are, he was humbler yet, even to accepting death, death on a cross. But God raised him high and gave him the name which is above all other names so that all beings in the heavens, on earth and in the underworld, should bend the knee at the name of Jesus and that every tongue should acclaim Jesus Christ as Lord, to the glory of God the Father.

The word of the Lord: All: Thanks be to God.

GOSPEL ACCLAMATION. Philippians 2:8-9

Praise to you, Lord Jesus Christ,
king of endless glory!

Christ became obedient for us even to death, dying on the cross. Therefore God raised him on high and gave him a name above all other names.

Praise to you, Lord Jesus Christ,
king of endless glory!

GOSPEL: Matthew 26:14 — 27:66

Parish Mission Statement

We follow the words of our patron, St John Vianney, who said "He is here".

We recognize Christ is in the Word, the Eucharist, and in us His people, with a special reverence for Him in the poor and marginalized.

We are called to make Christ present through our prayer and charity.

We seek to grow in our spiritual lives and created a community where everyone is welcome; the young and the old, together to experience the loving presence of God.

We believe He is here amongst us and we joyfully go out to make Him present to all.

Passion of Our Lord Jesus Christ Year A

The very large crowd spread their cloaks on the road, while others cut branches from the trees and strewed them on the road.
(Matthew 21: 1-11)

The life and death of Rosalind Franklin

In 1962, Doctors James Watson and Francis Crick accepted the Nobel Prize for medicine for their discovery of the chemical structure of DNA. It was one of the great injustices in the history of scientific research because the real ground-breaking work that led to their discovery was done by an English researcher who had died before the prize was awarded.

The story of Rosalind Franklin's life and work is controversial. During her lifetime, she received little recognition for her contributions to one of the most significant discoveries of the 20th century.

Born in 1920, Rosalind Franklin was a gifted student, who went on to become a chemist, specialising in mineralogy. Her work led to the development of a more effective gas mask that saved thousands of lives during World War II.

After the war, she starting working on DNA, the material our genes are made of. she produced the first X-ray image that revealed the double helical structure of DNA. Without her knowledge, the photograph was passed along to Watson and Crick who used it and her data in their work. Dr. Franklin was never credited when their findings were published; she never realised the crucial role her work played in the discovery of the chemical structure of DNA. If she did, she never expressed any bitterness or frustration.

Rosalind Franklin's image of the DNA molecule was key to deciphering its structure, but only Watson and Crick received the Nobel Prize. Nobel Prize rules prohibit the awarding of the prize posthumously. Rosalind Franklin' ground-breaking work, in all probability, cost her life. She died alone, betrayed by colleagues, her work taken from her. But the work of her life outlives her in the advances that have been made in medicine over the past six decades.

The story of Rosalind Franklin mirrors the story of Jesus' passion and death. The Passion account we read today is as much a story about us as it is about Jesus: in the Gospel accounts of Jesus' condemnation, suffering and crucifixion, we confront the greed, betrayal, and cruelty we are capable of. But in the person of Jesus, God takes on our humanity in all its sinfulness in order to move us beyond our failings, to realise his grace and compassion in our lives. As Rosalind Franklin's work lives on despite the injustice and suffering she endured, Christ transforms death from the final humiliation into the beginning of something much greater and sacred.

PALM SUNDAY YEAR A

Jesus enters Jerusalem.

The Jews were waiting for a king to lead them against the Romans and make them free again. When Jesus rode into Jerusalem on Palm Sunday, he was welcomed as this king, but he came as a king of peace and not to bring war.

LET US PRAY

Lord Jesus, Prince of Peace,
We pray that your peace
will spread throughout our world today
and touch the lives of everyone.
